ABOUT

Practical AI, taught in plain language

Kabir Zariwala has been doing tech work since he was 15. For 20 years he has helped small and growing businesses build their systems, from ERP software to getting online. Today he does the same with AI and automation.

He is the founder of Kavion Media, an AI automation agency in the UAE that helps businesses automate repetitive tasks. He also runs AI Business Builders, a community where owners and professionals learn to build with AI every week.

Kabir hosts the Kabir Vani Podcast, where he has sat down with influencers and well-known personalities about how they built their names. He brings that same storytelling to the training room: real examples, live builds and no jargon.

HOW WE WORK TOGETHER

1. Needs call
   A 30-minute call to understand your team, tools and goals.
2. Custom outline
   A session plan built on your team's real tasks, for your approval.
3. Live, hands-on training
   People practise with the tools during the session.
4. Take-home resources
   Prompts and checklists your team keeps using after the session.

Let's plan your team's session

Book a short call and I'll suggest the right programme and format for your team.
